

DATE: August 31, 2011
SUBJECT: Warfel Announces Promotion

Warfel Construction Company is pleased to announce that Bill Stadden has been promoted to Accounting Manager. Stadden joined Warfel in early 2011 as a Cost Analyst. As Accounting Manager, he is responsible for complete oversight of the accounting department and personnel. His primary responsibilities include analyzing job cost and revenue, overseeing accounts receivable and payable functions, assisting with audit and tax matters, and performing account reconciliations.

A resident of Lancaster, Stadden is a graduate of Penn Manor High School and obtained an Economics degree with minors in Finance and Accounting from Millersville University. Prior to joining Warfel Construction Company, he served as an Assistant Vice President for PNC Bank, formerly Sterling Financial Corp.

Observing its 100th anniversary in 2011, Warfel Construction Company provides general construction, construction management and design/build services to clients throughout Pennsylvania and surrounding states.

